Better Than Pills

Druggists in Liquid, or in Powder to be taken dry or made into tea.

The King of Liver Medicines. It is the only medicine that cures the Liver and Kidneys. It is the only medicine that cures the Liver and Kidneys. It is the only medicine that cures the Liver and Kidneys.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," Says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Currier Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by N. W. Smith, Druggist.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 50 cent bottles for sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

STATE AND COAST.

Taken From Our Exchanges Through-out the Northwest.

Salem society is all agog over a "Doll Carnival."

The Roseburg fair pays 85 per cent of its liabilities.

Fifth street, Eugene, is being laid with Portland tile, for drainage purposes.

At Blodgett, Benton county, last week, 10,000 bushels of oats were sold at 22 cents.

Wallowa county has turned off 5,000 head of cattle this fall for $100,000 or more.

Three hundred cattle from Pine and Eagle valleys have left Baker City for South Omaha.

Eugene is figuring on an electric fire alarm system. It would then have cheaper insurance.

The Salem depot grounds are to be provided with a grassplant and beds of flowering plants and shrubs.

E. P. Marshall has a band of 1,300 Spanish merino, Delaine merino and Oxford bucks five miles south of Pendleton.

Bert P. Van Cleve says he has given up the plan of starting a daily paper in Oregon City, and will spend the winter in Salem.

Wallowa county will turn off $100,000 worth of cattle this fall, and Eastern buyers are now contracting for hogs at 4 cents.

The bonus for a beet-sugar factory at Independence includes, so far, 50 acres of land from W. P. Connaway, and $500 cash from Wilcox, Baldwin & Co.

Coal has been discovered on Beaver creek about 10 miles from Lae. The coal is said to be of excellent quality, but its extent is not known at present.

No one as yet knows what Governor Lord will do in the making of appointments. It is his intention to leave for the East in a few days to visit it friends and relatives, and until he returns and becomes governor in fact, who will be appointed is entirely a matter of speculation. It is said there are many applicants for all of the positions.

Emil Schanno, the Wasco county fruit grower, has received from California a colony of Australian ladybugs, which he will put out along Mill creek.

Good wheat is selling in Union county for 22 cents per bushel delivered at the mill. One farmer has 30,000 bushels, and has sold 15,000 bushels at that price.

More than 100 tracklayers are putting down heavy new steel rails on the Sheridan branch, and will soon have the job complete from Portland to Sheridan.

A rich piece of "float" quartz was found down the John Day river below Mt. Vernon recently. Prospectors are out trying to discover the ledge from which it came.

The little steamer Mayflower sank on Lake Klamath last week. Captain McCormick and his two daughters were aboard, but were safely taken off in a boat. The machinery only will be raised and put into a new boat.

Grant county reports to the assessor 7,894 horses, 16,529 cattle, 172,638 sheep. This last does not include lambs. The county has about 235,000 sheep, and its wool clip next year will not be far from 1,500,000 pounds.

H. F. Putman has started from Eugene for Elgin with about 500 head of cattle. He paid $14 and $15 for cows and $24 for steers. He leaves something like $8,000 in Wallowa county, and there are plenty of cattle left.

A man in Fairfield, Washington, has invented an attachment to be used on an ordinary bicycle by which he may travel with ease on the rail of a railroad track. The inventor recently rode over 50 miles in three hours.—EX.

At Eugene, Martha I. Hay has sued her husband, Jarvis J. Hay, for divorce. The couple were married in Josephine county, Ore., on October 21, 1878, and the complaint alleges drunkenness and cruel and inhuman treatment.

Hugh Finley, of Benton county, has 3,500 bushels of prunes, which are being cured on two dryers at the rate of 1,000 bushels per week. Ten men are picking and seven are drying, and he expects the product to weigh 70,000 pounds.

Berney May, of Harrisburg, son of Mr. Sam May, is now traveling for Dittenhofer, Hans & Co., having succeeded Doc Hamberger, deceased. He is a bright young man, and will make a success of any business he undertakes.

E. Goodmanson, an Irishman, living near Sheridan, was thrown from his pony one day last week, receiving injuries from which he died a day or two later. He is a laborer and is thought to have had a wife and children at Whatcom.

Not many weeks ago John McMann and Miss Waggoner were married in a Harney valley hayfield in a blaze of sunlight, and now it appears, though not of official record, that their only presents consisted of three tons of hay two hay knives, a hayrack and a scythe.

The mountains of Elk Creek, or Red Lands, in Southern Oregon, are said, by a Canyonville correspondent, to be the resort of cattle thieves who are gathering stock from the neighboring ranges, butchering them in these secluded places and peddling it out to farmers in other settlements.

Asbland Tidings: There is talk in railroad circles of a reduction of four or five hours in the running time of the overland passenger trains on the Southern Pacific between Portland and San Francisco. The fact that the roadmasters on the Shasta division have been instructed to see that the track is put in perfect repair at once lends color to the rumor of the proposed shortening of the time schedule.

One day last week the young son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tallman, of Meadow Lane county, and the neighbor's son by the name of Nichol, met with quite a serious accident. The Nichol boy had a revolver in his hands and was snapping it when the hammer fell upon a loaded chamber. The ball passed through one of his legs, striking the bone, and into the knee of the Tallman boy. Mr. Nichol's son is in a very critical condition, while Mr. Tallman's son is resting easy, although the bullet is still in his leg, the doctor not being able to locate it.

SAUNDERS TO GO FREE.

It is Definitely Stated that Pennoyer Will Pardon Him.

The Oregonian is authority for the statement that it can be definitely stated that before he retires from office Governor Pennoyer will grant a pardon to Captain William Wirt Saunders sentenced to life imprisonment for the killing of Charles Campbell, at Albany in 1855. Mr. George W. Belt, district attorney at the time of Saunders' trial, has joined, it is understood, in recommending executive clemency for Saunders, and this, coupled with the earnest solicitation of many others in behalf of the imprisoned man, has induced Governor Pennoyer to give the application favorable consideration. In doing so the pardon will be granted with the express understanding that Captain Saunders will leave the state and not return.

The case of Saunders has been one of the most celebrated in the criminal annals of Oregon. Sentenced to be hanged, a fugitive from justice, his recapture and second trial, resulting in a sentence of life imprisonment, all made Saunders notorious throughout the state.

During his term of prison life no inmate of the penitentiary has attracted more attention among visitors than Captain Saunders. During the entire period he has been a model prisoner. During the sessions of the legislature many of the members and scores of others visited him, nearly all of whom signed the petition for his pardon, which he would present. He has always entertained the hope that he would soon be released, but it has been so long deferred that the realization of his great desire, so near at hand, will be a joyful surprise.

Saunders has always maintained his innocence of murdering Campbell, claiming he did the shooting in self-defense. Campbell, as he lay dying, made his ante-mortem declaration in the presence of Mr. George Chamberlain and Dr. Maston, saying that he had been "shot down like a dog." Mr. Chamberlain has always refused to co-operate with those seeking the release of Saunders. He has no ill-feeling toward the prisoner, and says that when Saunders was convicted and sentenced his duty as a prosecuting officer ended, but he would not conscientiously join with others in asking clemency.

They Were Swindled.

A number of over-credulous Corvallis business men mourn the loss of $100 cash. A month or more ago they invested that amount in a lottery scheme of which J. H. Lombard, of New Orleans, was agent, and the big prize they were to draw in return never materialized, and never will. Oily worded letters from the same firm are now being received by various parties in the city. After enjoining strict secrecy one of these letters reads: "If you will get us a club and send us by express $25 we will send you twenty five one-fifth tickets. One ticket will be in a separate envelope and we guarantee that it will win $1,000. Some of the tickets in the package will also win small prizes." Strange as it may seem there are men in Corvallis foolish to believe that for a $25 investment more than $1,000 is to be realized, but such there are, as the $100 recently blown in on the scheme testifies. To any who contemplate, the following from a recent letter from Paul Conrad, manager of the Honduras Lottery Company will be interesting: "J. H. Lombard & Co. are not and never have been our agents. They are frauds, swindlers and counterfeiters, and are now in the hands of the police."—Corvallis Times.

To Bring Out the Bodies.

Mrs. Downing is stopping in this city a few days, and has made arrangements with R. W. Veatch to bring the remains of Downing and Weaver from the Bohemia mountains, where they perished in the snow last winter. Mr. Veatch accompanied by Hamilton Veatch will leave Monday with rubber sacks in which to bring down the remains to the warehouse. They will then be placed in the coffins and taken to Eugene for interment. Mrs. Downing offered to pay Mr. Veatch liberally for bringing the remains from the mountains, but he declined to take anything. Considering the distance and labor of bringing the remains out of the mountains, this shows noble generosity on the part of Mr. Veatch.—College Grove Leader.

Little Grace, the eight-year-old daughter County Recorder D. F. Hardman, while playing "see-saw" last Monday fell from the board upon which she was sitting and broke both bones of her leg below the knee.

A CORRECTION.

To THE EDITOR OF THE EXPRESS:

Please permit me to correct a mistake made in an obituary notice in your issue of last week as I feel that it should be made and I know of none more competent to make the correction than myself. In the obituary notice of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Skinner, of Eugene, the writer says, "Mrs. Skinner crossed the plains in 1847, in the same train with Ex-Governor Moody and Hon. S. R. Thurston, etc." Mrs. Skinner did not cross the plains in 1847, nor at any other time. She came to Oregon via the Isthmus of Panama in 1852, possibly in 1851. She was one of several ladies who came to this coast as teachers; under the direction in some way, of Governor Slade, of Massachusetts. She, then Miss Elizabeth Hopkins Lincoln, Miss Blackler, who afterward married Gov. John P. Gaines; Miss Miller, who afterward married Hon. Joseph G. Wilson, and others whose names I do not now remember, constituted this corps of teachers. Among the passengers who came out on the ship were Ex-Governor S. F. Chadwick, of Salem, Dr. A. H. Steele, of Astoria, etc. Mrs. Skinner was married in 1856, if I mistake not, to Judge Alonzo A. Skinner, one of the noblest men I ever knew. She was a teacher of a private school in the family of my brother, J. D. Holman, for a term of years, and was my preceptor for about two years. If there is any one, aside from my parents, to whom I owe a greater debt of gratitude than any other, for the shaping of my education, it is she. A grand, heroic woman has gone from earth, and it is with sadness I pen these lines, and in tears I must say farewell dear, good sister till we meet in heaven. I regard it as a person I misfortune that I could not have known of her illness, that I might, measurably at least, have repaid the debt of kindness she so richly merited at my hands. Most Respectfully,
F. DILLARD HOLMAN.

Hogs Will Bring Money.

A farmer of this district the other day informed a neighbor that he had thousands of bushels of wheat that wouldn't pay to haul to market, and knew where he could get plenty of hogs, but would not purchase them because there was no market for pork or bacon in this country. We would respectfully inform the farmer that a hog-buyer traveled over Morrow county last week looking for fat, live hogs for shipment. He purchased 100 head from one farmer, paying 3 1/2 cents on foot at the ranch, and a smaller band from another farmer at 3 1/2 cents. The buyer did not come into Gilliam county because he knew there were no bands of hogs in the county, but just as soon as we have the hogs, you may depend upon it we will have plenty of buyers after them.

The Hop Outlook.

A letter received by Smith & Beards from Wm. Boswell & Co., of London, under date of September 3th, says, "The present position of the hop market seems to fully justify the advice given by our Mr. Boswell to all the growers he met in the summer of 1894 viz to reduce rather than increase their plantations of hops. Some samples of 1894 Californias now on the way are already to hand and are offered at 8 1/2 to 10 cents per pound in London. We understand many growers on your side say they will not pick their hops. This seems rather a mistake, as even if the hops are not very valuable this year, they may be worth big money next. If prices continue very low, the large brewers are sure to lay in heavy stock to guard against scarcity in the future and if hops are promptly taken off the market as they arrive, which seems extremely likely in view of the low prices ruling the small quantities which promise to be shipped we may see a steadily improving market this season instead of a continual drop like last year."—Eugene Register.

Wood Wanted.

All who have taken subscriptions on wood or farm produce are requested to haul it in as soon as possible, for the roads will soon be in bad condition if the rains continue. Tell your neighbors that they can have the EXPRESS sent to them for wood, fruit or potatoes. Sample copies will be sent free on application.

Ladies' Coats and Jackets.

I am now receiving my fall and winter stock of ladies, misses and children's garments. These goods were bought for cash and include novelties and staples of the latest patterns. Call and see them.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder
Awarded Gold Medal Midwinter Fair, San Francisco.

A World's Tribute.

America Leads the Nations in the March of Progress.

Among the wonders of the World's Columbian Fair the grandest was the exhibit of American products. The Exhibition was, in this respect, an object lesson of the grandeur and glory of the Republic. Among the exhibits from the United States no article of its class stood so high as

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

The Chief Chemist of the Agricultural Department at Washington, backed by an intelligent jury at the Exposition, found it strongest in leavening power, peerless in its purity and beyond comparison in uniform excellence.

Received Highest Award At the World's Fair.

The award is a matter of official record. Nothing could settle so decisively the immeasurable superiority of Dr. Price's over all other powders as the great honor bestowed at Chicago.
